

Down below and to the left, where the heart is: The Zapatista Rebellion Lives!

---

Rich Stahler-Sholk recently returned from a year in Chiapas, Mexico, where he spent time in Zapatista indigenous villages in the Lacandón Jungle.

Come hear about this grassroots movement to create autonomous government, including community-based education, health, justice, and local decision-making structures.

---

Sponsored by...

Interfaith Council for Peace & Justice

*Latin American Task Force
www.icpj.net*

WHEN: Tuesday, October 10th, 7:30 p.m.

WHERE: First Baptist Church
512 East Huron Street
Ann Arbor, MI 48104
(Parking off Washington St. between Division and State)

Richard Stahler-Sholk is a professor of political science at Eastern Michigan University. His academic interests focus on Latin American social movements, rebellion/revolution, democratization, and political economy (particularly neoliberal globalization and its alternatives). He has written on the Nicaraguan revolution and Central American politics. His recent work focuses on the Zapatista rebellion in Chiapas, Mexico, where he has served as a human rights observer on numerous occasions since 1994.

---